Hi Ladies,

Busyness can be a fact of life. Home and parenting responsibilities, jobs, serving at church, volunteering elsewhere--like the song says "Chaos calls." So how do we make sure that "busyness" and the "chaos" of life isn't controlling our lives? The song goes on to say "Lay down what's good and find what's best." Saying "no" more often is easy to say and yet very hard to do, particularly for Christian women who desire to serve and help others.

Nehemiah has been called to a huge task - leading the people in rebuilding the wall of Jerusalem. Enemies want to hinder or destroy the work by whatever means possible. Those working on the wall were working with one hand, having a sword in the other. One time, his enemies sent a message to Nehemiah, asking him to come down to meet. Listen to Nehemiah's answer (Neh 6:30) "I am doing a great work, so that I cannot come down. Why should the work cease while I leave it and go down to you?" That's someone who knows his priorities, and is intentional about doing what is best.

Let's win the battles of good vs. best!

Love in Christ, Debbv
